The Maastricht Interview was developed by Professor Marius Romme & Sandra Escher for research purposes and revised for use in clinical and community settings when working with voice hearers.

- It can help voice hearers overcome the shame and stigma of talking about the voices and encourages them to describe their experiences.

- It is also a means of systematically mapping all aspects of the voices to gain more insight in the total history of the voice hearing experience. This will support voice hearers to gain insight into the meaning and function of the voices in their lives.

- By creating a better understanding of the voice hearing experience it can alleviate distress, increase coping and support long term recovery outcomes for the voice hearer.

"A fantastic approach that is far more humanistic & trauma informed"

"Excellent, inspiring, practical, helpful"

This workshop is ideal if you:

- Work with voice hearers in a clinical mental health setting.
- Work with voice hearers in a community mental health setting.
- Work with voice hearers in general.
